Excerpt: .from the first grade through the High School. FOURTH YEAR SEPTEMBER ToNE PRODUCTION The study of vowels and consonants, breathing, position, etc., as applied to children s singing, is vitally essential for every teacher who attempts to teach children to sing. This most important side of school music teaching is not included in this Manual, for obvious reasons. A few suggestions only, are offered concerning the use of neutral syllables which shall hereafter be used a part of the time, in the place of the Latin syllables, do, re, mi, etc. Great care should be taken in the choice and use of vowels. The oo sound is an excellent means of forming the head tone habit. However, the habitual use of oo is apt to develop a hooty tone. The vowel o as in on is favorable to good tone. This sound is between...
